SUIT AGAINST A CONSTABLE

HARRY COHEN BRINGS SUIT AGAINST BONDSMEN OF McALISTER OFFICER.

COHEN STOLE "SUNBEAM"

Complainant Says Officer Seized Seven Barrels of Sunbeam, Worth Fifty Dollars and Suffered Humiliation to Amount of $9,000.

McAlester, Okla., April 15.—Two suits for damages aggregating $20,000 against A. L. Banks, constable, and his bondsmen, were filed in the district court this afternoon.

The first case is that of H. S. Cohen, who alleges in his petition, filed by J. G. Harley, attorney, that on November 25, 1908, the said Banks caused a warrant to be issued for his arrest and did arrest him and imprison him, charging that he was guilty of larceny of seven barrels of "Sunbeam" of the value of $50.

He alleges that on the day of April judgment was entered in the case against him in the county court, releasing him from custody and from prosecution.

He alleges that he was compelled to be at great expense in defending such case, in making bond, and that he suffered great mental pain and humiliation; that he has been damaged in the sum of $9,500, for which sum he seeks judgment, and the further sum of $1,000, the amount for which the sureties on the bond of the said Banks are liable.

The sureties on the bond of Constable Banks are J. L. Farmer, A. A. Banks and W. R. Thomas. The other case filed today is against the same defendants, Constable Banks and his bondsmen, and is brought by Charles Jarrells of the same grounds, he having been, it is alleged, arrested at the same time as the plaintiff in the above entitled case, and he seeks damages in the same sum.

The theory on which Cohen and Jarrells were arrested was that they had removed "Sunbeam" after it had been seized by the officers.

"I'd Rather Die, Doctor, than have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham of Princeton, Ill., "but you die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said all doctors. THE STEVENSON TRIAL

STATE TRIES TO PROVE THAT DEFENDANT THREATENED VICTIM—DEFENSE'S TESTIMONY.

Norman, Okla., April 14.—The state played its trump card in the Stevenson murder trial Tuesday, producing witnesses who testified that the defendant, who shot to death Marshal Cathey at Pauls Valley, had previously threatened to kill Cathey and once attempted to carry out the threat.

The defense had witnesses on the stand through whom it was attempted to prove that Cathey was a desperate man and that he fired the first shot in the duel that resulted in his death.

The state completed its witness list Wednesday morning and the defense began calling its witnesses. The case will not go to the jury probably until late today. Stevenson will be put on the stand today.

Among the last witnesses used by the state were Mrs. Davidson who was in the Globe hotel at Pauls Valley at the time of the killing; J. S. Shelley, who was on the opposite side of the street at the time of the shooting and saw Cathey come out of the restaurant; C. P. Bruce, mayor of Pauls Valley at the time of the killing; Will Cecil, a cook in the Valley Cafe at the time of the killing and who saw both Cathey and Stevenson in the cafe just before the killing, and who heard the shooting; J. W. Lattimer, who was town marshal of Pauls Valley at the time of the killing; N. Webb, who was United States marshal at the time of the shooting and who took Cathey's and Stevenson's guns away after the shooting.

The defense yesterday used H. Webb, a former deputy marshal, and J. T. Hill, character witnesses.

Crawford Hill, the defendant's partner in the barber business and the man with the defendant immediately prior to and up to the time the shooting began, was put upon the stand by the defense yesterday. He said he was closing the barber shop door, Stevenson having just stepped out ahead of him and turned down the street. He saw both parties just before the shooting began, Stevenson standing on the street and Cathey standing out in front of the restaurant door. He testified that the report of the big gun, the one used by Cathey, rang out first. (All of the other witnesses who saw or heard reports testified that the report of the small gun rang out two or three times before the report of the big gun was heard.) As soon as the shooting began this witness ran back into the barber shop. On cross examination this witness answered many questions by "I don't know" and "I don't remember."

THE TRONLE is caused by a provision slipped into the new tick eradication law without the knowledge of the board, prohibiting the moving of cattle across any quarantine line unless entirely disinfected. The railroads are anxious to prevent the issuance of the injunction as there is now no district judge in Osage county to whom the matter could be appealed.

COURTS WILL SUSTAIN HIM

OKLAHOMA LIVESTOCK INSPECTOR SURE TEXAS CATTLE WILL BE BARRED.

BASIS OF THE SUIT

G. T. Bryan Contends That State Has Right to Govern Movement of Cattle Across Border—Glad Suit Has Been Brought.

Guthrie, Okla., April 14.—G. T. Bryan, superintendent of live-stock inspection of the state board of agriculture, stated this morning that he believed that the action of the board would be sustained by the courts in the suit which has been brought by County Attorney L. F. Roberts of Osage county to prevent the shipment of Texas cattle into that county.

"I suppose that the suit is based on the idea that the law of 1905 is still in force," said Mr. Bryan. "The attorney general has held that it was repealed by the law passed last year creating the board of agriculture, but even if the laws established by that law were still in force I think that we would have the right to move cattle across it under certain restrictions. We pass cattle over the federal line with one dipping and holding them three days for inspection. The only difference here is that we leave out the three days requirement. I am glad that the suit has been brought, as the matter has not been passed upon by the courts and we should be glad to have it decided."

No More Shipments.

Guthrie, Okla., April 14.—After tomorrow the railroads of Oklahoma will refuse to accept shipments of cattle from Texas points into the Osage county pending a determination of the suit brought by County Attorney L. F. Roberts of Osage county to restrain the roads from shipping in cattle not entirely free from ticks.

Clifford L. Jackson, attorney for the Katy, James Cottingham, attorney for the Santa Fe and Edgar Demuels, attorney of the Midland Valley railroad appeared before the board of agriculture today and announced that they had taken this step anticipating that an injunction will probably be issued in the county court of Osage county, Friday.

The attorneys asked the board to temporarily abolish the quarantine line that is now placed below Osage county so as to permit the free shipment of Texas cattle into the Osage country free at least thirty days on one dipping.

They stated that if this action is not taken by the board and the injunction is issued the shipment of cattle to the Osage pastures will be entirely stopped and that the cattlemen, who have spent millions of dollars in securing pastures on contracting for cattle in Texas will be financially ruined.

John Leahy of Pawhusky appeared before the board representing the cattlemen asking for the same action. The board adjourned until tomorrow without taking any action, and will reconvene at Stillwater where the people that want the quarantine line to remain as it is will be given a hearing.

The trouble is caused by a provision slipped into the new tick eradication law without the knowledge of the board, prohibiting the moving of cattle across any quarantine line unless entirely disinfected. The railroads are anxious to prevent the issuance of the injunction as there is now no district judge in Osage county to whom the matter could be appealed.
